1.

A Minimum Spanning Tree is a subset of edges that connects all vertices together without any cycles and with the minimum possible total edge weight. It also spans all nodes and has the smallest sum of edge weights.

